Noelck, Redmon Star in Musical

All the gaiety and splendor of old Scotland will come to life on the stage of the main Auditorium, November 19 and 20, when "Brigadoon" will be presented to the public.

The Lerner-Loewe Musical comedy is being presented through the combined efforts of the Speech and Drama Department, the Division of Music, and the Women's Physical Education Department. Dr. R. E. Fulsom, chairman of the Speech and Drama Department, is overall director of the production.

Starring in the musical will be Carl Redmon and Shirley Noelck. Redmon will portray Tommy Albright, the romantic American who accidentally stumbles onto Brigadoon while hunting, just as the community is coming to life. While in Brigadoon he falls in love with Fiona MacLaren, played by Miss Noelck.

Bill Price as Jeff Douglas and Karen Miller as Meg Brockie will play the comedy leads. Ernest Mertz will play Charlie Dalrymple, and Elenor Barrett will be Jeannie MacLaren, Charlie's bride. Ronnie King will play Mr. Lundie, the Scotch domine, who relates the secrets behind Brigadoon to the guests. Dan DeMott will portray Harry Beaton, the jilted suitor.

Others featured in the cast include Sara Beth Kurtz, Marilyn Gillis, Richard Fetterer, Don Ellis, Robert Reck, Bill Schultz, Bill Lippincott, Phil Hayes, Ray Rouse, and Robert White.

Three stages will be used to produce the show. Elaborate scenery, backdrops, curtains, screens, and stage properties will be featured. The scenery is being built by the scenery and stagecraft classes, under Dr. Fulsom's supervision.

Veterans' Day

Hostilities in the first World War, which began late in July 1914, were suspended at eleven o'clock on the morning of November 11, 1918, after the signing of an armistice by the contending powers.

The announcement that the war was ended was flashed to all parts of the world, followed almost instantly by enthusiastic demonstrations. Soon there came to be universal agreement that the anniversary should be observed. Congress in 1926 adopted a resolution directing the President to issue an annual proclamation calling upon the people to observe the day. In 1938 President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed a law which made November 11 a legal holiday in the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands as well as the United States.

No special observance is planned by the college or the Maryville Chamber of Commerce. The American Legion will be celebrating the fourtieth anniversary with activities planned at the Maryville Post.

Union Board Approves $1000 Cut, Plans For Convention

A cut of $1000 was approved in a new budget and plans were made for the Region 8 Union Board Convention by the Executive Council in a meeting held on October 22.

According to members of the Council, this budget cut will necessitate curtailment of some activities this year. It was announced, for example, that the Christmas Ball would probably feature the music of a local dance orchestra.

Plans were made for the convention, which will be held at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, on December 4 and 5. The Union Board will send ten delegates to the convention.

Bill Sutter will lead a discussion group concerning special activities of Union Boards. Dale Cooper will be secretary for one of the discussion groups.

Additional delegates to the convention will be Marsha

Crowell, Bill Needels, Ann Porter, Janet Su Cox, David Hargrave, Carolyn Boner, and Ron Kixmiller, chairman of the local Union Board.

Mr. Harry Bowes, Director of Union Facilities, will accompany the group to the convention.

Shell Oil Interviews

Shell Oil Company marketing representatives will visit the campus Thursday, November 12 to interview business graduates with a major or minor in accounting and also liberal arts, engineering and science graduates. Graduates with these qualifications interested in treasury management, or market management should contact the business office for an appointment and further details.

SURVEY TAKEN

Love and Marriage

"In your lifetime, do you plan to marry?" This question was asked in a survey recently conducted on the campus of Northwest Missouri State College. If the student answered
 "yes" to the question, he was to choose three predominant reasons from a list of fourteen choices.

This same procedure was to be used if the student marked
 "no" as the answer to the question. Of the 227 students surveyed, 96.92 per cent (220) said they were planning to marry.
 There were 2.2 per cent (5) that marked "no" and .88 per cent
 (2) that were undecided.

Ninety-six per cent (113) of the 118 women surveyed said they do plan to marry. "Love" was the first choice of 78 per cent, while "home" was selected by 60 per cent of the women surveyed. "Children" was chosen third by 57 per cent and 42 per cent chose "companionship" as their fourth choice.

Of the 109 men surveyed, 98 per cent (107) are planning to marry at some time in the future, while two per cent are undecided. "Love" was also the first choice of 76 per cent of the men surveyed, while companionship was chosen second by 55 per cent. "Home" and "children," chosen by 50 per cent of the men, tied for third place.

A breakdown of the total results of the survey is shown on the following chart:

Dean Koerble
Aids Freshmen

Dean of Faculty, Charles Edward Koerble, is one of the most interesting and enlightening figures on this campus.

He was born in Milwaukee, Wis., and after high school worked as a machinist apprentice. He received his B.A. in psychology from Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin.

After graduation from college, Dr. Koerble taught high school speech for two years.
 Then, during the war, he was in Panama for three years.
 After the war, he worked as an executive trainee for the Good Will Industries of America. He then went to the University of Wisconsin and received his M.A. in speech.

During this time he met his wife, Betty Bevis. They were married in June, 1952.

Mrs. Koerble worked as an office manager to help Mr.
 Koerble receive his Ph. D. in 1954. She, also, has a M.A. in speech from the University of Wisconsin and has taught both English and Elementary grades.

Dr. and Mrs. Koerble now have a son, Brian Edward, five years old; and a daughter, Barbara Lee, three years old.

Dr. Koerble came to this college as Director of Guidance and Counseling. In 1956, he was selected for his present position, Dean of Faculty. He is, however, still concerned with counseling, and every student should talk to him at least once before graduating.

Still finding time for outside activities, Dr. Koerble is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, and Phi Delta Kapa honorary education fraternity. He participates in the Monday Men's Forum, is president of the Rotary Club, has headed the Boy Scout fund drive, and is a member of the American Association of Advancement of Science and the American Personnel and Guidance Association.

In his spare time, Dr. Koerble enjoys H. O. Gauge Model railroads and has a workshop in his basement where he tries out the latest "Do It Yourself" plans.

Dr. Koerble was largely responsible for the change from large group to small group orientation schedules. This revamped the pre-registration orientation program.

At the present time, Dr. Koerble is busy interviewing and discussing with freshmen the results of their orientation tests.

PAT GUERTIN MC's

Dorm Gals

Third floor girls in Residence Hall provided the entertainment for the first dormitory party of the year, held Monday, November 2.

Pat Guertin acted as mistress of ceremonies and introduced the following acts: Bunny Horn-back doing a tap dance, Frederica Dodge reciting, "Bugs", Carolyn Bates singing "Because of You", Marlene Cary with an accordion solo, Bobbie Walker doing an interpretive dance, and Pat Dunham reading one of Charlie Weaver's letters from home.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Halloween pranks: Harvest Moon Dance; A goat at the girl's dorm; Penny Night; Basketball practice: the last football game; mid term tests; the suitcases still going home; parking; pledges taking their swats; locker carrying as a P. E. activity; the Marine Corps taking over bridge instruction in the den; the tasty meals of late; J. W.'s apple tree; the stolen clavicle; numerous absences due to goose hunting; the Tigers and the Orange Bowl; purge on pop corn poppers; leotards; those dreaded pink slips!

All That Jazz

Cram, man, cram! Wow, listen to that "Study Hard Rock"! That beat's in my ears, blotting out whatever else I hear. It's the time of the year when everyone is humming this melodious little tune. And in most cases this theme song isn't one that should be turned off. It's about that time again. You know, midterm exam time. Good luck, kids!

The words that best describe this "beautiful" season are "Brrrrr-r-r-r" and "It's sure cold." And we mustn't forget "Gahhhhh-h-h-h!" That's when the windy old wind blows a tree-full of leaves and snow into your fresh clean face. It's a pretty scene to see a tree of golden red. But why does the fall have to be so darn cold?

One of the guys in the quadrangle, who prefers to remain anonymous, has been dating two girls here on campus rather steadily. He has to make a choice between the two . . . Kate is a real cute little trick, vivacious, red-headed, and loads of fun.
 But Edith is a studios, intellectual beauty—straight E student, real helpful. This goes to prove—You can't have your Kate and Edith, too. (Chuckle-chuckle!)

And with that joke (?) I say—
 'Bye until next week's tea party.
 Study hard an' all that jazz!

McCOOLE BRINGS IN THE PLAY that ends the game.
 What was the play? Well it was the gun the referee uses to signal the end of the game. Because Joyce, a senior, was leading cheers for the last home game of the season with Rolla, she was allowed to take the gun to the officials with two minutes left to play.

The Stroller . . .

With ears flapping to the wind, the Stroller set out for another journal around the campus to hear what she could hear.

Her first excursion was a browse through Residence Hall where she picked up a few tidbits about a new sorority, evidently very secret, because even the Stroller's large ears couldn't find many details.

Speaking of the Dorm, the Stroller hears that some of the college teachers—male—are wandering around restricted areas. No doubt, some of the students—male—would like to share the privilege. Relax, fellows, scenery in the halls ain't out of the ordinary.

It seemed to the Stroller that the only thing that students were talking about was tests, so the Stroller decided that he should take a few tests with everyone else.

In talking with the other student scholars, he learned that it helps to take crib notes into many of the classes. This was fun, and he soon found that you have to be quite a brain to keep up with the other students who also are thinking of ways to cheat in class. My, but it was fun for the Stroller to glance around the class and see all of the cheating going on.

As she scurried under the chairs in the Faculty lounge, she was amused to hear that some of the teachers knew about the cheating and others simply said, "I know it's not going on in my class." But the Stroller knows!

(The pronoun shift is intentional; this is a new play invented by NWMSC.)
